

Flossbach von Storch - Bond High Conviction - CHF-YT³

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

Flossbach von Storch - Bond High Conviction is a globally diversified, flexible and growth-orientated bond fund with an active investment approach that focuses on corporate bonds, government bonds and covered bonds. Investments in convertible bonds (including Coco Bonds) and bonds without maturity are also possible. The offensively orientated fund flexibly exploits the opportunities of the entire bond market. Investments in bonds with investment grade up to sub-investment grade (minimum: CCC rating) are possible; unrated issues are analysed in-house. A maximum of 75 per cent of the portfolio can be invested in bonds without an investment grade rating. Foreign currency risks are taken up to a maximum of 20 per cent of the portfolio. Securities are selected as part of a fundamental research and analysis process. The investment strategy includes in-house valuation models, ESG integration and engagement. Exclusion criteria defined as part of the sub-fund's investment policy are also taken into account. The share class is hedged against currency fluctuations affecting the Sub-Fund currency.

The sub-fund is actively managed and not based on an index as a reference basis. The composition of the portfolio is determined by the fund manager exclusively in accordance with the criteria defined in the investment policy and is regularly reviewed and adjusted if necessary. The sub-fund is categorised as an Article 8 product within the meaning of the Disclosure Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 (SFDR).

For detailed information on the objectives and investment policy, please refer to the current sales

In accordance with regulatory requirements, we are not permitted to provide performance figures for this share class, as no full calendar year is yet available.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

Bond markets were once again weighed down in August by the ongoing escalation of the Iran conflict and the resulting rise in energy prices. Amid thin summer liquidity, the euro money market went on to price in up to three further interest-rate hikes (!) by the European Central Bank (ECB) by the middle of next year. This drove bond yields higher across the board, spanning individual market segments and maturities (by around 10-12 basis points, bps). In the USA, Kevin Warsh's hawkish comments at the central bankers' meeting in Jackson Hole, with their explicit emphasis on the inflation target, also pushed US bond yields higher – primarily at short and medium maturities, which ended the month around 5 bps higher on average. Risk premiums on spread products were virtually unchanged month on month, while the high yield segment tightened further – and thus became more expensive – despite already historically low levels. Spreads on French and Italian government bonds widened in addition to the broad-based rise in yields. Whilst future developments in the Iran conflict remain subject to considerable uncertainty, the ECB appears to us increasingly (too) restrictive given the associated risks of a weakening in growth expectations, or indeed of potential collateral damage. In our view, this should at least bring about a stabilisation of yield levels – though a pragmatic resolution of the Iran conflict should be accompanied by falling energy prices and appreciably lower yields once again. Within the portfolio, we made few changes given the limited primary market activity and generally thin secondary market liquidity. The above-average cash position is primarily a value-date effect, but can be deployed for the forthcoming wave of new issues in the autumn on attractive terms at these (temporarily) elevated yield levels. Portfolio duration nevertheless continues to allow participation in a recovery in bond markets, whilst the high current income can cushion setbacks.

Flossbach von Storch - Bond High Conviction - CHF-YT

OPPORTUNITIES

- + Participate in global bond market growth.
- + Income can be generated from regular interest payments.
- + Active interest rate, currency and risk management (e.g. from the use of derivatives).
- + Increase in potential returns through the use of investment-grade bonds, contingent convertible bonds ('CoCo bonds') and bonds with no maturity date ('Perpetuals').

RISKS

- Country, credit and issuer liquidity risk. Also potential exchange rate risks. If securities are illiquid (i.e. thinly traded), there is a risk that it may either not be possible to sell the assets at all or only by accepting a significant discount on the sale price. ESG criteria can restrict the selection of target investments in terms of category and number, sometimes considerably.
- Investing in bonds may entail price risks, especially in case of rising interest rates on the capital markets.
- Where used, derivatives can have a greater negative impact on the fund value than would be the case if the assets were acquired directly. The value of the fund may also be negatively impacted to a greater extent by the use of investment-grade bonds. This can affect the fund's risk profile and volatility (tendency for the price to fluctuate).
- The limited use of contingent convertible bonds ('CoCo bonds') and bonds with no maturity date ('Perpetuals') entails specific additional risks. 'CoCo bonds' are typically debt instruments that can be converted into the issuer's equity or redeemed in whole or in part if a predefined trigger event occurs. 'CoCo bonds' increase the complexity of the fund and may present a higher liquidity and market risk. 'Perpetuals' have no fixed maturity and may increase the risk of repayment of the bond.

Please read the Prospectus and particularly the RISK WARNINGS section and the specific annex of the subfund to understand the risks and benefits of this product.

INVESTOR PROFILE

GROWTH-ORIENTED:

The fund is appropriate for growth-oriented investors. Due to the composition of the net sub-fund assets, there is a high degree of risk but also a high degree of profit potential. The risks may consist in particular of currency risk, credit risk and price risk, as well as market interest rate risks.

INVESTMENT HORIZON:

Medium- to long-term: Minimum 4 years

RISK INDICATOR

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for a minimum of 4 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. The summary risk indicator ('SRI') is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. Unusual market conditions could arise, for example, due to currency, creditworthiness, price, counterparty, liquidity and interest rate risks, as detailed in the sales prospectus. We have classified this product as 3 out of 7, which is a medium-low risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium-low level, and poor market conditions are unlikely to impact the Fund's capacity to pay you. This product does not include any protection from future market performance. Please refer to the 'Risk' section of the sales prospectus for more details.
